Home/Job/Vendor Fair

In need of a home or a job? The City of South Bay invites the community to attend a home/job/vendor fair on Saturday, June 3 at Rosenwald Elementary School, 1321 Martin Luther King Blvd, South Bay.

Anyone interested in qualifying for a single-family home in a new subdivision would bring pay stubs and their 1993 and 1994 W-2's and tax returns. Anyone interested in learning more about job opportunities with the Weichenhut Corporation, which is opening a new prison facility in South Bay, should bring a resume.

Free refreshments will be served during the event, which runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information, call the City of South Bay, 996-6751, or Centro Campesino at 996-3988.

Kindergarten Round-Up will be held at Gove Elementary School on Thursday, May 25 and Friday, May 26, from 9 to 11 a.m. each day.

Parents whose children will be 5 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1995 and will be attending Gove in August are encouraged to attend.

Kindergarten teachers will be available to fill out the necessary registration forms and to answer questions concerning curriculum. The School Improvement Plan will also be available to read. The following documents should be brought to the meeting: the child's birth certificate, shot record on HRS Form 680 (must include measles shot), results of a physical examination and TB test given within the previous 12 month period prior to August 23, 1995, two utility bills showing current address and the child's Social Security card.

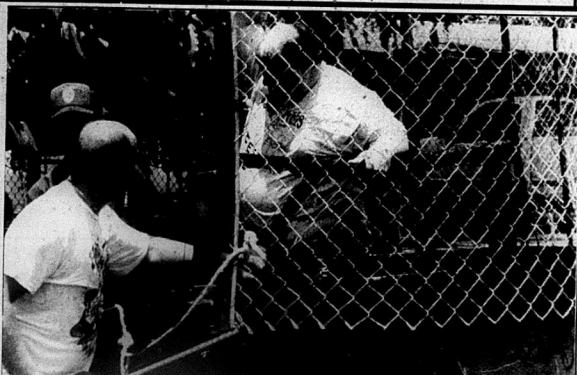

West Tech graduation

Graduations ceremonies are scheduled for June 13 for West Technical Education students. The ceremony will take place at the school, located at 2625 State Road 715, in the Lee Berryhill Student Center. Friends and family of the students are invited to attend.

Summer Food Program

The City of Pahokee Recreation Department and the South Bay Recreation Department will be sponsoring the "Summer Food Service Program for Children" at the City of Pahokee Community Recreation Complex, 360 E. Main Street, Pahokee, and at Tanner Park, 100 S.W. First Avenue, in South Bay.

The program will also be offered at the city library in the park at 601 Bacom Point Road, a Padgett Island Circle, 899 Padgett Circle and at the New Hope Foundation, 7450 U.S. 441, Pahokee. The program, similar to the National School Lunch Program, will be offered during the months of June, July and August.

Twin-City Firefighters' Festival... Canal Point Volunteer Fire Department Chief Tommy Reddish spent a lot of time in the water while he was in the dunk tank during the Twin-City Firefighters Festival held Saturday at the Canal Point Community Center. Both the Pahokee and Canal Point Fire Departments hosted the day-long affair which highlighted and demonstrated firefighter techniques. Proceeds raised at the festival will pay the expenses of hosting the event, and the remainder of the proceeds will be divided between the two fire departments. Pahokee Fire Chief Gary Burroughs said the monies will be used to purchase equipment for the station.

Pahokee Elementary is the newest school to become a part of the nationwide in-school post office program "Wee Deliver."

During two programs last Monday, the Pahokee Postmaster swore in postal workers from kindergarten through sixth grade. The workers include a postmaster, postmaster assistant, letter carriers, an alternate, sorters, stamp vendors, nixie clerks, facers and cancellers.

The school has been divided into different towns and streets which establish the mail route. Each hallway is a town and each classroom is a different street. All towns and streets are named after different stars or constellations which the students have been studying in school.

The students took postal exams and completed job applications. They were interviewed for the various postal positions. The Pahokee Postmaster assisted in the interviews for children in the fourth and fifth grades. It was suggested to the students to "dress up" for their interview and some of them actually did.

The entire process taught students job interviewing skills, and it also served to help them with their penmanship, reading and writing.

Pahokee Elementary School Guidance Counselor Randi Schietz sought to bring the Wee Deliver program to the school. She coordinated the program and interviewed 100 students. According to Mrs. Schietz, "Some of them were really nervous. They took it very seriously."

Eleven-year-old Sierra Johnson was selected as the postmaster of the in-school post office, and sixth-grader Shaheed Foster was selected as her assistant.

Stamps used to mail letters will be those which were winners in the school's stamp design contest. The stamps will be sold to the students by the school's post office employees for 1 cent each.

Mrs. Schietz said the program has generated much enthusiasm throughout the school. "We hope that the enthusiasm continues as it helps improve their reading and writing skills and teaches our students responsibility," she said.

Gone are the days of passing notes in the bathrooms or the classrooms and hoping not to get caught. Now students can simply mail their friends, or even teachers, a letter through the in-school post office.

Water Management District plans meeting

The South Florida Water Management District is planning a public meeting at the John Boy Auditorium, 110 West Ventura Avenue, Clewiston, on Thursday, May 18, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m., with registration from 5 to 6 p.m.

District officials will be at the John Boy Auditorium from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. conducting business. The commission will discuss issues involving the state's water resources and water management district programs and operations.

On Friday, May 19, the full commission will conduct its regular business meeting and issue discussions, which will be followed by formal presentations, by state and local governmental representatives, agricultural and environmental interests, and former members of district governing boards. Interested persons are invited to attend all meetings.

For more information, please contact Sally Bond Mann, executive director, Water Management District Review Commission, at 904-922-0981.

Local teacher recipient of prestigious Dwyer Award

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

Residents of the Glades community have something to be proud of - a Rosenwald Elementary School teacher won the distinguished William Dwyer Award for Excellence in Education.

Annette Allen is a first grade teacher and according to Rosenwald Elementary School Principal Earlyne Harrell, "Her number one concern is the children."

Involved in the community as well as in the classroom, Mrs. Allen said she teaches because she wants to help the children. She strongly states that she is a proud product of the Glades and she felt it necessary to teach in the community in which she lives.

The 47-year-old veteran teacher was a migrant throughout her childhood, and she said she can identify with what children in this area are experiencing today.

According to Mrs. Allen, she said she was surprised when the announcement was made naming her the winner. "I didn't really think I could win because it was my first time being nominated." In accepting her award, Mrs. Allen graciously thanked her "friends, family and principal."

"This is a 'we' class, not a 'my' class."

Annette Allen

A lifelong resident of South Bay, Mrs. Allen has been a teacher for 14 1/2 years. She is a 1965 graduate of Lake Shore High School, and a 1980 graduate of Florida Atlantic University. Married to her husband, Leonard, for 28 years, she is the mother of four children and four granddaughters. "Oh yes," she said proudly, "and I have one son-in-law."

Mrs. Allen is a member of Mt. Calvary First Baptist Church, South Bay, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Civil Service Board, South Bay, and LEAP (Learning Arts through the Educational Programs), among many others.

The Dwyer Award recognizes outstanding achievement by public and private school teachers in Palm Beach County.

Two juvenile car thieves apprehended

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Two juveniles who were spotted by police while driving a stolen vehicle were caught Friday, May 12, in Belle Glade.

Patrolman Eric Schuster spotted a light blue Mercury Topaz, reported stolen earlier in the day by Anthony Dennard, traveling east on West Canal Street south of 4:40 p.m. The car was occupied by two juveniles. Pltm. Schuster pursued the car into the 700 block of Northwest Seventh Street, Belle Glade, until the two juveniles abandoned the car and fled on foot into the construction site just north of the Glades Central High School Annex. A perimeter was set up by back-up officers, and Pltm. John Owens responded with K-9 "Henny." With the aid of the K-9 dog, Patrolman Owens was able to capture the two youths.

One juvenile was turned over to his parents while the other was released to the Juvenile Detention Facility in West Palm Beach.

Friends seeking help for family who lost possessions in fire

By Brenda Bunting

A fund has been set up at First Union Bank in Belle Glade for a family of seven who lost many of their possessions to fire and smoke damage.

Nina Johnson, an employee with the City of Belle Glade, was not at home May 9 at 8 p.m. when her home caught on fire.

Her daughter-in-law Maria, and her four grandchildren were, but luckily, they were in the front yard wading pool when the blaze started.

Nina Johnson called the fire department and they responded immediately. Belle Glade's Fire Department also responded and helped put out the fire, which was estimated to have done over $10,000 in damage to the wood-structure house.

South Bay Firefighter and EMT Sam Adler said the fire at 130 N.W. Second Avenue, started in an ash tray in one of the bedrooms.

The American Red Cross has helped the family with some of their clothing needs and Maria Johnson and her children are staying with her mother, Nina Johnson is staying with her sister in South Bay until she knows the extent of the damage.

"It's still so smoky in there it's hard to tell what can be saved," said Mrs. Johnson.

Nina Johnson has worked for the City of Belle Glade as a field supervisor at the Belle Glade Municipal Golf Course for 15 years. She has also been working a second job trying to pay the deductible for damages to her car after some teenagers stole her automobile April 2 at the Clewiston Theater while she was in the theater watching Forrest Gump. The boys wrecked the car and did over $8,000 in damage to the auto before police found it abandoned.

Belle Glade Recreation Director Mike Underwood said Ms. Johnson was a hard worker who has had several bad breaks recently and he hopes friends and neighbors will help her out by making a donation.

The fund at First Union Bank is set up in Nina Johnson's name. Anyone wanting more information should call Mr. Underwood at 996-6605.

Weather forecasters expected to answer a wide range of questions

By Mike Lyons

The Hubble Space Telescope has been taking remarkable photographs in recent weeks. Ever since a space shuttle crew cleared up its vision, the Hubble has been doing exactly what its designer's said it would: showing us pictures of outer space we've never seen before.

Every time one of these amazing photographs are released by NASA's television station is eager to show it to the folks at home. Inevitably, these pictures are broadcast immediately before I appear with the weather forecast.

The producers of our newscast, place that Hubble photograph right before me, for a reason. They expect me to make some kind of intelligent comment about the picture. They think since I know something about the weather I should know something about astronomy as well.

As it turns out, I do know something about astronomy. I know to call my friend, Mike Pelermeti, who just happens to be an astronomer. Mr. Pelermeti is always eager to share his knowledge of the planets and stars.

When I visit our area schools at least one student will ask me about earthquakes. I don't study geology. I answer patiently, I focus on the weather. I guess some folks think the same way as our television producers: if it's a science, Mike must know something about it.

That's why I'm certain I'm going to get a lot of questions about volcanoes in the coming weeks. The reason is because of what happened on May 18, 1980. Fifteen years ago this month, Mt. St. Helens exploded in the most violent volcanic eruption in United States history.

The explosion leveled 150 square miles of forest, left 67 people dead and produced a cloud of ash that circled the earth for weeks. I know a little about Mt. St. Helens and volcanoes in general because of that cloud of ash.

Mt. St. Helens blew its top at 8:32 a.m. Over the next nine hours, the volcano pumped an estimated half-billion tons of fine ash into the atmosphere. A lot of that ash fell to the ground covering eastern Washington like a December snowstorm. But, some of it remained in the air floating around the world 12 miles high caught in the jet stream.

That cloud of ash had an impact on the world's weather. It cooled the earth, changed weather patterns and produced some unusual weather events. Thankfully, the ash cloud dissipated rather quickly.

We were not as fortunate, however, a few years later when Mt. Pinatubo, a volcano in the Philippines, blew its top. The explosion in June 1991 claimed 700 lives, forced the U.S. to abandon Clark Air Force base and shifted the jet stream.

That shift produced some of the wildest weather in years. The great Midwest flood of 1993, for example, is a direct result of Mt. Pinatubo. So were the record rains in California and the record snows in the Northeast during last winter. Mt. Pinatubo may even be responsible for reducing the number of hurricanes in the Atlantic last year (there were only three).

How does a volcanic eruption change the weather? Mt. Pinatubo, and other volcanoes, spew large amounts of sulfuric acid droplets into the atmosphere. When sunlight hits these droplets the light is reflected back into space cooling the earth.

The eruption of Mt. Pinatubo, for example, cooled the northern hemisphere by 1.5 degrees. That doesn't seem like much, but it's enough to change weather patterns dramatically. I'm told that there are hundreds of active volcanoes in the world. All that ash has got to go somewhere which means I'll have to keep abreast of more than just meteorology. I'll have to keep on top of all kinds of Earth sciences.

Mike Lyons is the weatherman for WPBF, Channel 25.

WARNING!

Medicare beneficiaries should be aware of the illegal scams that are currently being used to rob Medicare trust funds.

1. "Milksams" - Beneficiaries are offered free "milk" (usually Ensure or Sustacal) to supplement their diet. Medicare is then billed for the "milk" and false diagnoses are used to bill Medicare.

2. Bribes for Medicare cards

Beneficiaries have been offered up to $50 for their Medicare card number. These numbers are being used by providers who do not use to bill Medicare for services you DID NOT receive.

3. Bribes for medical services - Beneficiaries have been offered up to $100 to go to a medical clinic for "free" exams and tests. Medicare is then billed for the services as if your doctor had ordered them.

4. Door-to-door solicitation - Beneficiaries are being solicited in their home and offered free groceries, medical equipment, and home cleaning services. Medicare is then billed for home nursing or home aid services. Be wary of anyone coming to your home offering home health services for "free". All home health referrals must come through a licensed physician/health care provider.

What you should and should not do? Do not give your Medicare card or number to anyone except persons you know and trust. Do not accept offers of money or gifts to receive medical services. Report any cases where you or anyone you know have been victims of these and other scams.

To report these cases, call 1-800-638-6833, or contact your social security office or the Department of Elder Affairs.

Almost every night on TV we see and hear about another elderly person who has been "ripped off" by a scam artist, con man, film-flam man, etc. Elderly people are so vulnerable, especially to phone solicitations. Remember nothing that looks "too good to be true", is true. In our society we don't usually get something for nothing, so beware! Question anyone who tries to talk you into anything, step back from the situation, stall, don't sign anything until you can get in touch with a family member, or a friend that you trust, to get their opinion on the situation. Be cautious and careful about signing anything. If a salesman wants to make a sale, then he will be willing to wait for you to read what you are being asked to sign. If he's not willing to wait, or seems impatient, he may be trying to hide something. Till next time, stay healthy and stay informed!

Pride may be allowed to this or that degree, else a man cannot keep up his dignity. In gluttony there must be eating, in drunkenness there must be drinking: 'tis not the eating, nor 'tis not the drinking that is to be blamed, but the excess. So with pride.

TOOTHBRUSHES

Nowadays, toothbrushes come in all shapes and sizes, various colors and textures. Deciding on which toothbrush is right for you may not be an easy decision, and shouldn't be chosen because of the sale price. There are soft, medium, hard bristles, small, compact, large, or angled heads, and the choices may seem endless. To simplify the choices, consider the following:

1. Right size for the individual. Is the toothbrush made for a child or adult?

2. Are the bristles soft? Too hard bristles damage delicate gum tissue, always select soft. 3. Does the toothbrush have specialized bristles? Is the toothbrush made for someone in braces? Is the toothbrush made with Barbed bristles to help sweep plaque from the gum line?

4. Has the toothbrush been tested by the American Dental Association? Look for a A.D.A. Seal.

Selection of a toothbrush should fit the individual's needs. Try different toothbrushes until you find one that's perfect for you.

WARNING!

Medicare beneficiaries should be aware of the illegal scams that are currently being used to rob Medicare trust funds.

1. "Milkscams" - Beneficiaries are offered free "milk" (usually Ensure or Sustacal) to supplement their diet. Medicare is then billed for the "milk" and false diagnoses are used to bill Medicare.

2. Bribes for Medicare cards

Beneficiaries have been offered up to $50 for their Medicare card number. These numbers are being used by providers who do not use to bill Medicare for services you DID NOT receive.

3. Bribes for medical services - Beneficiaries have been offered up to $100 to go to a medical clinic for "free" exams and tests. Medicare is then billed for the services as if your doctor had ordered them.

4. Door-to-door solicitation - Beneficiaries are being solicited in their home and offered free groceries, medical equipment, and home cleaning services. Medicare is then billed for home nursing or home aid services. Be wary of anyone coming to your home offering home health services for "free". All home health referrals must come through a licensed physician/health care provider.

What you should and should not do? Do not give your Medicare card or number to anyone except persons you know and trust. Do not accept offers of money or gifts to receive medical services. Report any cases where you or anyone you know have been victims of these and other scams.

To report these cases, call 1-800-638-6833, or contact your social security office or the Department of Elder Affairs.

Almost every night on TV we see and hear about another elderly person who has been "ripped off" by a scam artist, con man, flim-flam man, etc. Elderly people are so vulnerable, especially to phone solicitations. Remember nothing that looks "too good to be true", is true. In our society we don't usually get something for nothing, so beware! Question anyone who tries to talk you into anything, step back from the situation, stall, don't sign anything until you can get in touch with a family member, or a friend that you trust, to get their opinion on the situation. Be cautious and careful about signing anything. If a salesman wants to make a sale, then he will be willing to wait for you to read what you are being asked to sign. If he's not willing to wait, or seems impatient, he may be trying to hide something. Till next time, stay healthy and stay informed!

Pride may be allowed to this or that degree, else a man cannot keep up his dignity. In gluttony there must be eating, in drunkenness there must be drinking; 'tis not the eating, nor 'tis not the drinking that is to be blamed, but the excess. So with pride.

Nowadays, toothbrushes come in all shapes and sizes, various colors and textures. Deciding on which toothbrush is right for you may not be an easy decision, and shouldn't be chosen because of the sale price. There are soft, medium, hard bristles, small, compact, large, or angled heads, and the choices may seem endless. To simplify the choices, consider the following:

1. Right size for the individual. Is the toothbrush made for a child or adult?
2. Are the bristles soft? Too hard bristles damage delicate gum tissue.
3. Does the toothbrush have specialized bristles? Is the toothbrush made for someone in braces? Is the toothbrush made with flared bristles to help sweep plaque from the gum line?
4. Has the toothbrush been tested by the American Dental Association? Look for a D.A.S. Seal.

Selection of a toothbrush should fit the individual's needs. Try different toothbrushes until you find one that's perfect for you.

Rep. Foley introduces legislation to protect tomato farmers from dumping

U.S. Rep. Mark Foley introduced legislation aimed at relieving Florida tomato farmers from the dumping of Mexican tomatoes due to the devaluation of the Mexican peso. Referring to the preamble of the North American Free Trade Agreement which states objectives of NAFTA as to, "Reduce distortions to trade, ensure a predictable commercial framework for business and investment, and promote conditions of fair competition in the free trade area," Congressman Foley introduced legislation to link the tariff on tomatoes to the rate of the devaluation of the peso.

"When the Mexican peso underwent the devaluation beginning in December of 1994, the objectives of NAFTA were tossed out the window. How are Florida's farmers expected to compete and plan for the future in such an unstable trading environment when tomatoes are being dumped on the domestic market for the sole purpose of obtaining a strong and stable currency?" said Cong. Foley.

Referring to the recent peso devaluation, Cong. Foley pointed to the administration's response of bailing out the Mexican currency with American taxpayer dollars. He said, "What the administration failed to address in this misguided policy was the impact of the devaluation on our vitally important domestic industries."

The volume of Mexican imports of tomatoes have dramatically increased in the winter months of this year. In 1995, Florida had over 70 percent of the market share of the fresh market tomatoes and that has gone as low as 36 percent earlier this year. The bottom line has been depressed prices for domestic producers and imports flooding the U.S. market in search of dollars, and not pesos.

Cong. Foley's legislation would multiply the tariff on tomatoes by an equal percentage of the peso devaluation, creating a fair and stable climate for trade between the U.S. and Mexico.

The bill also directs the secretary of agriculture to determine the nature and extend of harm to the domestic winter tomato industry, take actions to remedy such harms, and report to Congress on these determinations. Finally, the bill makes specific changes in existing law to ensure that imported tomatoes meet the same specific requirements of domestically produced tomatoes.

"It is my hope that the Congress will carefully consider this bill and provide some relief to Florida's tomato industry. Also, the administration needs to be more responsive to the problems experienced by Florida's tomato industry."

"I urge the president to make good on his promise during NAFTA to take prompt and effective action to protect the vegetable industry from import surges from Mexico."

Problem

I'm calling about a problem off Avenue L and State Road 715, the new bar that's opened there.

Every night I have to ride through several men standing in the road there. I don't know if they're selling drugs or what they're doing there.

I've complained to the police department and they don't seem to actually care and I just wanted to see something put in the newspaper about it so maybe something can be done.

Chief of Police/Director of Public Safety Michael Miller responds: "To the citizens of Belle Glade in general and to the lady who has a problem in particular, please be assured that I and every member of my staff are concerned with public safety and the well-being of our citizens. Each and every complaint is documented and processed in accordance with well-established procedures. This particular complaint was received first through our communications center and again by Inspector Lowery and once again I spoke to you personally.

On each occasion you were given our best possible advice relating to your problem and assured that we would take the necessary steps within our authority to address the problem.

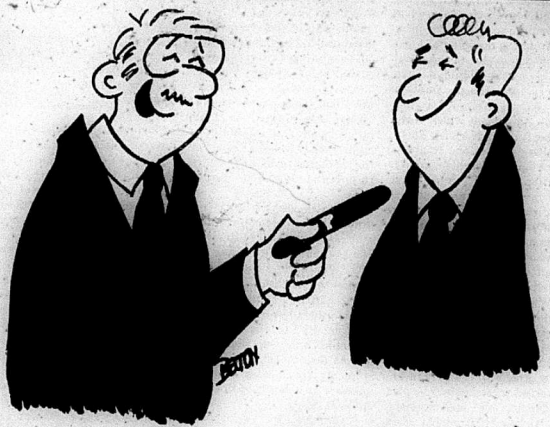

Please remember that we live in a free democratic society."

Wants light fixed

I'd like to know why the light on Avenue E and Fifth Street, Belle Glade hasn't been fixed?

I personally know that that light has been broken down, or whatever you want to call it, for at least two months or more." Chief Miller responds: "Please be advised that the City of Belle Glade has been in constant communication with Palm Beach County Traffic Maintenance Department concerning the repair of the traffic control light at the intersection of MLK Jr. See Speak Out, Page 7

Medicare - The impending crisis

Cong. E. Clay Shaw

Clinton administration says medicare is going broke

By Cong. E. Clay Shaw
22nd Cong. Dist., Florida

Medicare has been a blessing for America's seniors, providing health care coverage after retirement. But a government program designed in the 1960s is not adequate for seniors in the 1990s and beyond.

Our nation is growing older and soon we will have more retired people receiving Medicare than we will have people working and paying into the system. In addition, health care prices have begun to hold steady while Medicare prices continue to climb.

In short, Medicare is going broke. This announcement came April 3, when the Medicare Trustees - Clinton Cabinet Secretaries Shalala, Reich, and Rubin, as well as other experts - revealed the annual report of the trustees. The report found the Hospital Insurance Trust Fund will begin running out of money next year, and the trust fund reserves will be exhausted in 2002.

The report was clear and unequivocal: "Under all sets of assumptions, the trust fund is projected to become exhausted even before the baby boomers retire."

The trustees believe that prompt, effective and decisive action is necessary."

My committee has already begun holding hearings to determine the best way to transform Medicare, and throughout the summer we will hear from people with experience in the program, and the beneficiaries themselves.

I am concerned by the fact that President Clinton has chosen to totally exclude himself from the Medicare debate. His recent budget contains no solutions to the Medicare problem, and he never even mentioned it in his last State of the Union address.

Now is not the time to play political football with an issue as important as Medicare.

Saving Medicare for our seniors will require a lot of work. There are those who will sit on the sideline and condemn those of us who are willing to make the hard choices. Medicare must be saved. Medicare will be saved.

Mother's Day poems received from local schoolchildren

Editor's note: Students in Claudia Endelman's second grade class at Belle Glade Elementary put their poetry skills together and came up with six poems for Mother's Day.

We felt these were thoughtful, well-written poems and we wanted to share them with our readers, so here they are:

My mom is special to me,
She's a pretty angel - you see.
She works hard all day,
Please never ever go away.
Happy Mother's Day!

We love our mothers,
They love us too.
They're like no others,
They're great and cute!

.....
Mother, you are my hero.
Mother, you are so beautiful.

Mother, you are the apple of my eye.
Mother, you are a diamond in the sky.
Happy Mother's Day!

Mother's Day is here.
Let's give her a silent cheer.
It's a very special day.
Let's love her in every way.

Our mothers are the super best.
They take care of us and make us rest.
They make us dinner and dress us fine.
Happy Mother's Day mom,
I'm glad you're mine!

.....
We're little angels in our mother's eyes,
We come to school to become very, very wise.
Sometimes we're bad, sometimes we're good,
But whatever we do, mother always understood.
We love you Mom - Happy Mother's Day!

Public school flight: Here's a remedy

By Lora Holcombe
Adjunct Professor of Economics at Florida State University

The public school system of Florida is losing students at a significant rate, both to independent school and to home schooling. Many of those parents who are choosing private over public education are minority parents and parents from poor families who have historically chosen public education.

For example, for the 1994-95 school year, minority enrollment in Florida private schools increased by 53 percent from the prior year. In fact, minority enrollment in private schools has been growing for the last three years and now makes up over 18 percent of total enrollment at schools accredited by the Florida Council of Independent School, up from 14.7 percent the year before.

Many of these families must sacrifice greatly to send their children to private schools even though their tax dollars fund public education. And, what about home schooling? In the last five years the number of home schooled children in Florida has more than doubled. On a survey sent to the 11,161 Florida families who register as home schoolers, one question asked was why home schooling was chosen over other schooling options. Historically, religion has been the primary answer. This year, dissatisfaction with public schools was the most frequent response. Here are some of the reasons cited for the dissatisfaction with public schools: pupil/teacher ratios; overcrowded classrooms; lack of opportunity for individualized instruction; adverse peer pressure; unsafe school environment; expense of private schools; and medical/health problems of a child.

So, what does this flight from public schools tell us about our current educational system? Perhaps it's telling us that more and more parents are dissatisfied with the situation as it stands and that they want more choice about how schools are run and more choice about

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

This letter is in response to the article in last week's paper on counseling services offered at the Good Shepherd Church. I am disappointed that Pastor James Brewer is not aware of local resources.

Joseph H. Larsen, I am a licensed mental health counselor and a national certified counselor. I am also a Christian. I have lived and worked in the Glades for 30 years. I opened a private practice in mental health counseling in June, 1994.

People in various professions can be found to come to the Glades and work or do services.

However, they live on the coast and do not truly understand the unique problems that we have here. Also, people who live on the coast and come here to work do not spend their earned money from us in the community nor do they do anything to contribute or give back to the community.

I feel that as a community we should use our own resources before using resources out of the area.

Sincerely,
Joy H. Larsen

GFC releases panthers into wilderness

Six of the eight western cougars to be released into the wild in south Florida are roaming the wilderness now. Meanwhile, another big cat turned up unexpectedly near Waldo.

Tom Logn, head of wildlife research for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said, two female western cougars bounded out of their crates and into the wild recently. The releases took place in the Big Cypress National Preserve — one in the Lostmans Pines area of the Stairsteps Unit and one in the Corn Dance Unit.

Of the four cougars released earlier this year, one is in the Bear Island Unit, one is in the east in the Addition Lands and two are in the Fakahatchee Strand State Preserve, east of Naples. Two more are to be released later into the Everglades National Park.

Researchers hope the cougars will find mates among the Florida panthers and will restore the genetic variation that has been lost through a century of in-breeding among the panthers. Without the return of genetic material from related subspecies, the Florida panther probably would be doomed to extinction within a few decades.

"Signs are that one of the cougars in the Fakahatchee Strand already has found a mate," Mr. Logan said. "She remained in the company of one of the panthers for several days. You seldom find two adult cats together unless they are mating."

Lyndsey Korbly and Joseph Williams to wed

Dick and Kay Korbly of Pahokee announce the engagement of their daughter, Lyndsey Ann of Wellington, to Joseph Britt Williams of West Palm Beach.

The prospective groom is the son of Joe Williams and May Kimbrell, both of Lakeland.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Glades Day School. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Florida. She is employed as a teacher at Pahokee Middle/Sr. High School.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Lakeland High School and the University of Central Florida. He is employed by the Palm Beach County School Board as a Resource Officer.

The couple plan a double-ring ceremony to be held June 24, 1995, at First United Methodist Church, Pahokee. Rev. Ronald Jones will conduct the ceremony.

Christian School

Congratulations to Calvin Cauley, our "Conqueror of the Month". Calvin is in Mrs. Fullwood's fourth grade class and has been a student at Lake Country for six years. He is consistently demonstrating the qualities of humility, steadfastness and faithfulness to the task - a true conqueror!

Only five-and-a-half school days left! The students can't wait for that final bell, and teachers will be counting their blessings of this 10th year of Lake Country Christian School's ministry in the Glades. While the students are looking forward to a summer of fun, the teachers are looking forward to next year beginning the second decade of teaching and ministering to the "whole" student.

We are happy to announce that the forward look includes welcoming Francis Herring back to our faculty, while at the same time saying a "God bless you" farewell to Ronnie Cauley. Everyone is also looking forward to the addition of Sharon Wright to the faculty. She will be teaching K-5. Welcome aboard Sharon!

Parents are reminded that the awards presentation will be made during the chapel service next Wednesday, May 24, at 10 a.m. Academic awards will be given in each grade and each subject, as well as the Servant Spirit award for each grade. And then, on Thursday, May 25, at 7 p.m. the students will present their annual year-end musical extravaganza in the First Baptist Church of Pahokee sanctuary. All parents are reminded to have their children here at 6:30 p.m. Invite all of your friends and family for this special presentation of The Rich Man, The Builder and The Feast.

All classes will be dismissed at noon on Friday, May 26.

A final reminder: Registration for the next school year continues. Spaces can be guaranteed only for those who register and pay the appropriate fees. Remember, there is a $50 discount for all who register on or before June 1, 1995. For more information, call Tanya Willis at 924-7133, or come by the school at 225 Bacon Point Rd., Pahokee.

CoTran named Palm Tran

CoTran, the public transportation system in Palm Beach County has changed their name to Palm Tran. "The palm tree symbol and Palm Tran name reflect Palm Beach County perfectly," according to Irving Curie, executive director. The Palm Tran name was selected by a panel of four from a list compiled by CoTran employees and county employees.

In addition to the name change, CoTran has changed their logo, colors, uniforms and 11 new buses now have their new look. All of these elements were unveiled at the first media and dignitary briefing on Thursday, April 13. Ken Foster, chairman of the board of county commissioners, cut the official ribbon symbolizing the start of service for the 11 new buses.

The presentation of the million dollar marketing plan will be unveiled this summer. A December 1995 presentation will show the new route. August 1996 will mark the completion goal of expanded service to the residents of Palm Beach County.

Home/Job/Vendor Fair
In need of a home or a job? The City of South Bay invites the community to attend a home/job/vendor fair on Saturday, June 3 at Rosenwald Elementary School, 1321 Martin Luther King Blvd., South Bay.

Anyone interested in qualifying for a single-family home in a new subdivision should bring pay stubs and their 1993 and 1994 W-2's and tax returns. Anyone interested in learning more about job opportunities with the Wackenhut Corporation, which is opening a new prison facility in South Bay, should bring a resume.

Free refreshments will be served during the event, which runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information, call the City of South Bay, 996-6751, or Centro Campesino at 996-3988.

AIDS workshop planned
There will be an AIDS Community Workshop on Saturday, May 20, at Belle Glade Elementary School. The workshop will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The school is located at 701 West Canal Street, Belle Glade. For more information, call 996-4990.

West Tech graduation
Graduations ceremonies are scheduled for June 13 for West Technical Education students. The ceremony will take place at the school, located at 2625 State Road 715, in the Lee Berryhill Student Center. Friends and family of the students are invited to attend.

Summer Food Program
The City of Pahokee Recreation Department and the South Bay Recreation Department will be sponsoring the "Summer Food Service Program for Children" at the City of Pahokee Community Recreation Complex, 360 E. Main Street, Pahokee, and at Tanner Park, 100 S.W. First Avenue, in South Bay.

The program will also be offered at the city library in the park at 601 Bacom Point Road, a Padgett Island Circle, 899 Padgett Circle and at the New Hope Foundation, 7450 U.S. 441, Pahokee.

The program, similar to the National School Lunch Program, will be offered during the months of June, July, and August. It provides nutritionally balanced meals to needy children during summer vacation when school breakfasts and lunches are not available. All children 18 years old and younger, both enrolled and non-enrolled if an open site, are eligible for a lunch at no charge.

Appreciation Day planned for officers

The Mount Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church, located at the corner of S.W. 10th Street and S.W. Avenue C, Belle Glade, will celebrate Law Enforcement Appreciation Day on Sunday May 21, at 11 a.m.

The services will be dedicated to men and women in the law enforcement profession. The service is open to everyone. This is the sixth year law enforcement officials have been honored by the church and community. A dinner will follow the service at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center, located at 725 N.W. Mural dedication set
Over 100 teenagers have completed a 54 foot-long mural on the outside wall of the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

The Glades Youth Discovery Center, an after-school, year-round, cultural arts program for "at-risk" children in the Glades' area, has it is ready for dedication.

The City of Belle Glade will be recognizing the children during the dedication ceremony on Friday, May 19. The community is invited to attend the dedication ceremony at the library.

The mural is titled "A Fish Eye View of Lake Okechobee" and the project is sponsored by the Children's Services Council of Palm Beach County, Western Palm Beach County Mental Health Clinic, Inc., the A.D. Henderson Foundation and the Norton Gallery of Art.

For more information, call the Glades Youth Discovery Center at 992-1354.

Dr. McKee received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of Miami. Dr. McKee and his wife, Sarah, Stanton McKee, are employed by the Collier County Public Schools, in Naples.

Speak Out

boulevard and S.W. 5th Street. The delay has been caused by our inability to locate replacement parts. I spoke with a representative from the Palm Beach County Traffic maintenance Department on May 11, 1995, who advised me they had finally received a shipment of replacement parts and that the light would be repaired as soon as possible.

Guest Commentary

about which schools their children attend.

Of course public schools survive on funding formulas that are based on the number of pupils enrolled and, if parents continue to choose other options, public schools will find their funding base shrinking.

Linda's Place opens on South Main Street

Home cooking is what you can expect at Belle Glade's newest restaurant. Linda's Place opened its doors Friday, May 5, at 232 South Main Street, to a crowd of interested and hungry customers.

Owner Linda Lora said the operation is a family business with over 20 family members helping with the day-to-day operation.

"Business has been excellent so far," said Ms. Lora. "It was walk-to-walk the first day."

Ms. Lora was born and raised in Belle Glade and has over 10 years experience cooking for restaurants. She said she decided to open her own restaurant when she saw the need for a place that offered good, reasonably-priced home-cooked meals with a diversity of food selections.

The menu carries some unusually named items, including "Muckstepper dessert," (a mud pie), Cane Cutter, (a punch) and a salad called the "Black Gold Jubilee". In addition to the daily lunch and dinner specials, they also serve sandwiches and the "Big Lake Special", a dinner of catfish, hush puppies, fries and a salad.

"We can seat 40 people and we have a lot of plans to expand the menu and the business," said Ms. Lora, who also noted there is additional parking on the side and back of the building.

Linda's Place opens for breakfast Monday through Saturday at 5:30 a.m. and closes each evening at 8 p.m. They take call-in orders and will deliver and also offer a catering service.

For delivery, call 996-0300 or 996-0397.

Locals chosen for Women's Leadership Team

Diane Wagner of the Canal Point United Methodist Church in Canal Point, and Rachel Hollingsworth of the Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade, were recently chosen to serve on the Conference-wide Women's Retreat, for a 1995 Conference of the United Methodist Church. There are four retreats held yearly, each with an attendance of from 400 to 600 women from the 729 churches in the Florida conference.

Nationally-known speakers are featured each year, as well as those from the Florida Conference.

As members of the

Diane Wagner
Conference Leadership Team, Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Hollingsworth will have influence on the format, the content and the organization of these retreats.

Mrs. Wagner is married to Dennis Wagner, and she is a teacher at Kathryn E. Cunningham Elementary

Rachel Hollingsworth

School in Canal Point.

Mrs. Hollingsworth is married to Gene Hollingsworth, and she teaches at Gove Elementary School in Belle Glade.

Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Hollingsworth are the first persons from this area to ever be selected for these positions. Twenty years ago in 1975, they were in the same graduating class at Asbury College in Wilmore, Ky. Neither had guessed that years later, they would be living close to each other in Florida, in the Glades.

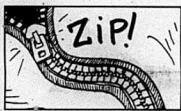

Area churches celebrate their acceptance of this challenge opportunity to serve God in this specialized ministry.

Fun & Games

May Fun Facts

What do the months of May and June have in common? They both have holidays that display the American flag. May has Armed Forces Day and Memorial Day. June has Flag Day. They also have days set aside to honor parents: May has Mother's Day, June has Father's Day.

For the FUN of it

Four Corners

by Kathy Lamancusa

A game for several people with simple rules and no supplies.

Here's how to play...

- Everyone gathers in the center of the room and one person is chosen IT!
- The corners of the room are numbered: first corner is #1, second corner is #2, etc.
- IT covers his or her eyes and counts to 10 as the others scatter and stop in one of the four corners. When IT is done counting, anyone not in a corner is eliminated. With eyes still covered, IT calls out a number. All players in that corner are also eliminated.
- IT turns around and repeats step 3. The game continues until only one player is left. That person becomes the new IT, and a new game begins.

Kids in the KITCHEN

Dirt Dessert

Gritty, grimy... good!

GET READY...

- Two small packages of chocolate instant pudding mix
- Four cups of milk
- One small can of whipped topping
- One six-ounce package of miniature chocolate chips
- One large package of Oreo® cookies
- Gummi Worms®
- One child's sand bucket and shovel
- Tools: hand mixer, large bowl, measuring cup

GET SET...

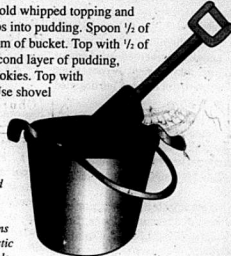

- Adult supervision is needed when using a hand mixer.
- Wash bucket and shovel thoroughly.
- Crush Oreos to a crumb consistency.

GO!

1 Make pudding. Mix pudding according to package directions. Place in refrigerator until soft-set.

2 Make dirt. Fold whipped topping and chocolate chips into pudding. Spoon 1/2 of mixture into bottom of bucket. Top with 1/2 of cookies. Add a second layer of pudding, then remaining cookies. Top with Gummi Worms. Use shovel to serve.

Option: To make individual servings, layer pudding mixture and cookie crumbs in plastic cups. Use narrow chenille stems for handles and plastic spoons for the shovels.

Quiz

Who said, "Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your hair?"

Answer: Rapunzel's wicked mother.

In the cartoon "Tom and Jerry," what kind of animal is Jerry?

Answer: A mouse.

Old-Fashioned

Taffy

Here's an activity that most of us remember doing as youngsters. Let's show our kids and grandkids what real fun is!

GET READY...

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- Cooking tools: scissors, 3-quart saucepan, large wooden spoon and large platter

GET SET...

- Adult supervision is needed when cooking in the kitchen.

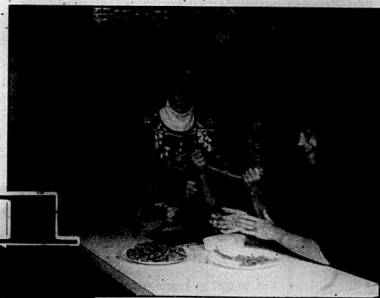

GO!

Butter sides of a heavy 3-quart saucepan.

Combine sugar, water, molasses, butter or margarine, and corn syrup. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking to 265 degrees (hard ball stage) without stirring. Note: Mixture should boil gently over entire surface.

Pour onto a buttered platter or shallow pan. Cool 10-15 minutes or until easy to handle. Butter hands lightly and pull candy till light in color and difficult to pull. On counter-top, roll and twist into ropes, 1/2" in diameter.

With buttered scissors, cut candy into 1" pieces. Wrap each piece in clear plastic wrap. Makes about 1 1/2 lbs. of candy.

Belle Glade Postal Carriers participated in the food drive which collected approximately 600 lbs of food items locally which will benefit the Salvation Army. Postmaster Johnny Johnson said, "We really thank the people of Belle Glade." Shown are carriers Helen Bailey, C.J. Williams, Randy Prescott, Adrian Hernandez, Levenon Barnett and Mr. Johnson.

Gator Tales

Graduation is just around the corner and members of the Class of '95 are chomping at the bit to get that piece of parchment paper in their hands pronouncing them as bona fide graduates of Glades Day School. The commencement ceremonies are set for 8 p.m. Friday, May 26, on the football field. But first, outstanding seniors will be honored with an awards ceremony at Senior Class Night this Friday, May 19, at 8 p.m. in Tripp Hall.

In the meantime, the juniors are anxiously awaiting their chance to become "top dogs" at school. They will be granted senior privileges beginning Thursday, May 18.

Football fans wanting a preview of the 1995 football team must wait to come to the "Green & Gold" scrimmage game this Thursday, May 18. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. on Gator Field. And don't forget to take advantage of the barbecue chicken dinner that is being offered before the game (5:30-7:30 p.m.) in Tripp Hall. Football players have been selling tickets for the dinner in the past couple of weeks in the effort to raise enough money for summer camp. If you don't have a ticket, there may be some dinners available for walk-ins. The cost is $6.

The football coaches would like to thank all those who participated in the "Mothin' But Not a Dinosaur" three basketball tournaments last weekend. The winners were: Open Division - Gilbert Garcia, Greg Summers and Shane Doney; Ladies Division - Fida Musallet, Jaci Rodriguez and Christine Burch; Jr. High Boys - Kit Hamilton, Larry Garrett and Israel Baer; High School - Billy Rimes, Pablo Sanchez and Jason Cunningham; and, Elementary - Bucky Dobrow, Matt Prescott and Ali Samara.

GDS congratulates the beginning, intermediate and advanced band students for the wonderful performances in their spring concerts last week. Everyone did an excellent job! Congratulations are also in order for the 1995-96 drum majors Stacy Alston and Emily Watson, and new Gator Flag Corps: Tracie Cordell, Ashley Curtis, Sandy Doney, Valerie Herring, Laura Beth Hartzog, Maria Pozo, Kassy Romero, Allien Torrecilla, Arlen Torrecilla and Melissa Tucker.

A reminder to students in grades sixth through 11th - You need to turn in your course selection forms for 1995-96 to the high school office by next Friday, May 26. Those who turn theirs in early will have first choice in the elective classes. Students who do not turn one in will have their classes selected for them. Don't be left out!

Students honored with achievement program

Glade View Elementary School held its Students Achievement Program Wednesday, May 10. The program served to honor students making the honor roll during the third nine weeks grading period.

Barbara Rutledge gave the Pledge of Allegiance, the welcome and the occasion. The fourth and fifth grade chorus presented songs to the audience by singing "Arcade Waltz" and "Listen to Your Elders". Participants in the Afro-Arts Pageant performed an African dance, and Student Achievement Committee members participated special presentations.

A RIF presentation to Emmanuelle Limoge was made by Janet Janke. Ms. Limoge received a special letter from Representative Alice Hastings for her participation.

Participants in the program consisted of Thernisha Jones, Erica Knight, Crystal Seider, Dennisha Brown, Larisha Carswell, Shaquanda Thomas, LenShawna Bennett, Latoya Thompson, Stephanie Samples, Nehemiah Duval, June Lampkin and Phylavian Lane.

Jessie P. Terry and Mrs. Rutledge were the program coordinators.

Rosenwald celebrating successes in "Success for All"

Rosenwald hosted visits from two of the Success for All Reading Program Facilitators. Rachel Nichols and Alta Shaw from Baltimore, Md. spent two days visiting classrooms to assess the implementation of the program thus far. Pre-kindergarten and kindergarten, Reading Routs and Beyond the Basic component groups also meet with the facilitators where ideas and suggestions were shared.

Congratulations are in order for Nicole Conklin, third grade teacher. She was one of the first-year teachers chosen to represent their district as a Sallie Mae First Year Teacher Award nominee. Ms. Conklin's nomination will go on to the state finals.

Annette Allen, a fabulous first grade teacher, was the recipient of the William T. Dwyer Award for Excellence in the Elementary School Division. We were really not surprised, after all, she is a staff member of the BEST school in Western Palm Beach County and home of Rosenwald's finest! A reception was held in the school's media center Monday afternoon so that the entire staff could congratulate her for a job well done.

A mixture of foods and fun equal Field Day. A school divided remains standing when it is to organize activities for pre-kindergarten through third grade and fourth and fifth grades. Pre-kindergarten through third grades took part in fun activities the likes of Tug-of-War, Sack Races, Zig Zag Races, Water Relays, and much more, while the fourth and fifth graders participated in Wiggle Ball, Softball and Volleyball activities.

Firefighter Frank was on hand at Rosenwald to "hose down" the pre-kindergarten through second grade students.

On May 19, the school will celebrate its annual May Day festivities.

May 8-12 was designated Teacher Appreciation Week. The teachers and assistants were presented with apple pins from the principal and assistant principal for a job well done.

Auditors were present in abundance as the school was selected for audit in three areas: pre-kindergarten, food services and Chapter 1. They all went through with flying colors.

Facilitators from John Hopkins Institute in Baltimore, Md. attended the Mother's Day program, and a celebration highlighting the success of the "Success for All Reading Program." Shown are (left to right) Rachel Nichols, Principal Earlene Harrell, Alta Shaw, and Program Coordinator Christine Salehi.

Pahokee offering summer activities

The City of Pahokee Recreation Department will be offering eight weeks of summer recreational activities. The city's recreation department will use two sites: the city community recreational complex (360 E. Main St.) and the city's park building (601 Bacon Point Rd.) to run its programs. Flag football, softball, volleyball, tennis, ping pong tournaments and board games are a few of the activities which will be offered at the community recreational complex. Activities offered at the park building will include swimming lessons in Belle Glade, skating in Lake Worth, tennis, kickball, volleyball, board games, field trips, etc.

There is a $50 registration fee, and participants must be in at least the first grade to participate. Insurance, t-shirts, and daily lunches will be provided.

Pre-registration began Monday, May 15, and will conclude June 23. Persons registering after June 23 will be assessed a $10 late registration fee.

For more information, please call the Pahokee Recreation Department at 924-2972 or 924-2976.

Commissioners sponsor free outing

Re-elected Pahokee Commissioners John Norman and Roy Singletary hosted a free community outing Saturday, May 13, to express their thanks for re-electing them to the commission.

Hundreds of community residents enjoyed a day of basketball, kids games and fellowship at MLK Park, Pahokee.

Hot dogs and corn-on-the-cob were available as well as baked beans and cold drinks.

According to Pahokee resident and community leader Rev. Patricia Wallace, "Norman and Singletary make a great team and they are working for the betterment of the City of Pahokee."

Assisting at the outing were Parents on Patrol and Concerned Youth for Community Improvement.
